

Navigating through change?

Astera Asia offers corporate level expertise, adapted for non-profit organizations and small businesses, as guidance to help them operate effectively.

From now until the end of August 2020, Astera Asia will offer 10 FREE first-time consultations.

The consultations will cover areas such as organizational strategy, business planning, human resources, marketing and communications, and crisis management. A full list of consulting areas is available at www.astera.asia under Core Services.

To sign up for your FREE consultation, email us at your.guide@astera.asia.

- As this offer is a first-time consultation, each organization/company can only register once.
- Consultations will be limited to the areas that are covered in Astera Asia's core services.
- Each consultation will be no more than 40 minutes in length. Further details will be available upon registration.
- Registrants will be required to fill in a preliminary questionnaire ahead of the consultation to ensure a more productive session.
- All data and information collected from the preliminary questionnaire and consultation will be kept confidential.
- Astera Asia is not responsible for actions taken by the organization/company as a result of the consultation.
- This offer is valid until August 31, 2020.
